

BED - HOW TO MEASURE FOR DELIVERY

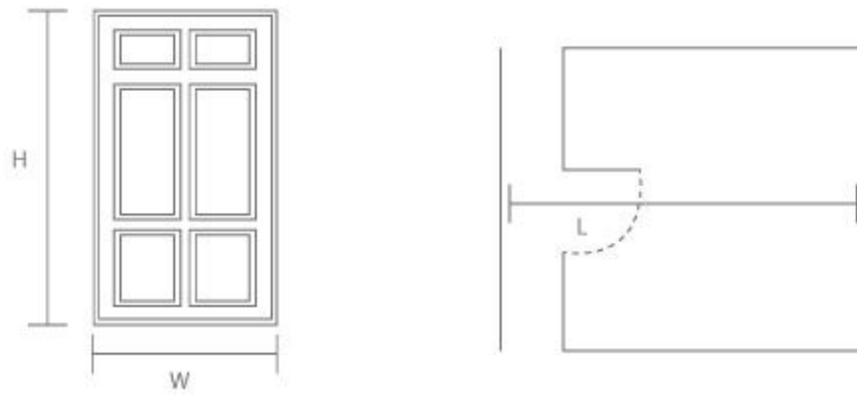

Pick the Right Piece

Make sure the furniture you're considering works in your space. Our published dimensions (width x height x depth) will help you decide.

Measure

The most common problem that occurs with delivery is typically getting the item into the space, through doors, down hallways and up stairs. Please take precautions in measuring to ensure a smooth delivery. Before you've selected your new furniture, it's important to be sure that it can be delivered through all entryways, elevators and stairways. Here are a few tips to get you started:

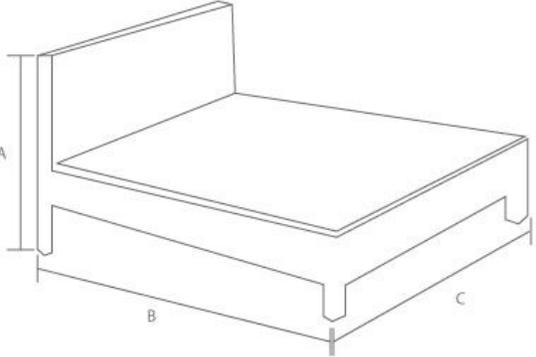

1. Measure the height and width of your entryway, including elevator doors and interior hallways, doorways and stairs. Also, measure the total length of clearance between the outside and the interior wall.

2. Use the furniture measurements to determine whether the piece can go straight through the entryway, at an angle, or on-end.
3. Make sure there's a clear and unobstructed path in front of and beyond each doorway. Make note of any decorative moldings, interior walls, the ceiling height, stairways and banisters that may pose an obstacle once furniture is inside.

Make Sure it Fits | A Guide for measuring

Make sure your furniture does not exceed the entry clearance. We provide the width depth and height of our furniture online and in our stores (measurements are calculated from each piece's widest or tallest point).

Beds Height (A) Measure from the farthest points top to bottom Length (B) Measure from the farther points back to front Width (C) Measure from side to side	 A 3D line drawing of a bed. A vertical line on the left side is labeled 'A', indicating the height from the top of the headboard to the bottom of the bed frame. A horizontal line along the front edge is labeled 'B', indicating the length from the back to the front. Another horizontal line along the side edge is labeled 'C', indicating the width from side to side.
--	--

QUICK CHECK LIST:

- Elevator
- Hallways
- Stairs
- Door Widths

Send us photos, and if in doubt, we can always send a team to come measure your space to confirm your delivery will go smoothly (for a fee).

ADDITIONAL COSTS:

Delivery fees are non-refundable. Please be aware that additional costs will be incurred for removal of existing furniture, as well as for the return of the item(s) to our warehouse.

QUESTIONS?

Please contact us and we would be happy to answer any questions or concerns you may have!

The Cross Decor and Design
1198 Homer Street Vancouver, B.C. V6B 2X6
Ph: 604-689-2900 | Fax: 604-689-2932